USAGE TIPS

When you're happy with a color in the palette, click on the circular swatch at the top, then (Lock)

When you lock a color, the ML model will take that color into account for subsequent generations

The "creativity" slider is not a linear scale! At values close to 2 the results will deviate a lot from your locked colors

Good values for the "creativity" slider range from 0.9-1.3. Values outside this range can be fun to play with, however

The "creativity" slider is the sampling temperature used in the transformer. We use sampling during decode for some additional randomness
